LIFE AT ATAFOM UNIVERSITY: READ WHAT OUR LECTURERS HAVE TO SAY

ATAFOM UNIVERSITY INTERNATIONAL

At first, I was nervous to teach in the online mode because I prefer face to face interactions with my students in a traditional classroom environment. However, over time I have come to realise that it is a really flexible and interesting mode to provide education with the flexibility to connect with a wide range of students at diverse locations.

The students at ATAFOM University International, due to this mode of teaching, are able to connect with and learn from the best teachers from across the world.

At ATAFOM we to give individual attention to the students to help them feel comfortable asking questions and build a good rapport with their teachers. We hope to prepare them not only for the courses but for the real life too. ATAFOM creates a closer relationship between students and teachers even in the online mode and it offers a lot of courses that are beneficial for the students.

The best part of this university is that it is not focused only on education but also on personality development and skills enhancements. I feel proud and humbled to be a part of this university and the great traditions it is endeavouring to set up.

WORDS OF WISDOM

VICTORY BEGINS AND ENDS IN THE MIND. -SAKIR YAVUZ

Victory truly does begin and end in the mind. How we think and perceive ourselves and the world around us can greatly impact our ability to achieve our goals and succeed in life.

If you believe that you can achieve victory, you are more likely to work hard and take the necessary steps to make it happen. On the other hand, if you doubt yourself and believe that you will fail, you are setting yourself up for defeat. So the most important thing for you is to learn that your thoughts create your reality and your mindset is your most powerful tool. The way you approach challenges and setbacks can determine whether or not you ultimately succeed. If you view obstacles as opportunities to learn and grow, you will be better equipped to overcome them and achieve your goals.

On the other hand, self-belief is essential for success. If you don't believe in yourself and your abilities, no one else will either. It's important to cultivate a strong sense of self-confidence and self-esteem in order to achieve victory and visualize success. Visualizing yourself achieving your goals can help you stay motivated and focused on what you want to achieve. By visualizing success, you are training your mind to believe that victory is possible.

Fear of failure or fear of the unknown can be a major barrier to achieving victory. It's important to recognize when fear is holding you back and to take steps to overcome it, such as breaking down your goals into smaller, more manageable steps or seeking support from others. Don't let fear hold you back but face it and come out of it !

Remember, victory begins and ends in the mind. By cultivating a positive mindset, believing in yourself, and visualizing success, you can achieve your goals and create the life you want. We at ATAFOM University International guide you on your path to success by cultivating a strong and positive attitude and mindset that empowers you to take on challenges and persevere through difficulties. With the right mindset, we can achieve anything we set our minds to and can overcome any challenge that comes our way.

“My experience at ATAFOM University is second to none. Let me begin by saying kudos to the entire staff and management of the University I called ‘The 21st Century Citadel of Learning’.

In line with modern-day international standards of learning, ATAFOM's way of imparting knowledge is a Learner-centered way of learning.

My lecturers are splendid, they give keen attention to every student's need and relate well with us (students) just like a doctor-patient relationship, and with a high sense of professionalism. They also go the extra mile to ensure that they attend to any query or doubt even on their personal time when contacted via WhatsApp or email.

Here at ATAFOM University, lectures are delivered online but with the classroom and a face-to-face experience.

I enjoy every lecture and look forward to it every day of the week.”

ACCEPT THE PERSON YOU ARE NOW SO THAT YOU CAN GROW INTO THE PERSON YOU WANT TO BECOME

You are powerful when you believe in yourself – when you know that you are capable of anything you put your mind to. When you follow your route with courage and tenacity rather than becoming dishevelled by the challenges in your way, you are beautiful. When you learn from your failures and grow more self-assured as a result of experiences, you become unstoppable. This is the time when you realize that you can fail, get back up, and keep going. Here are some concepts to help you along the way.

1. Stop condemning yourself and start recognizing your inner beauty. Being honest with yourself is different from judging yourself. The only task greater than learning to walk a mile in someone else's shoes when it comes to living as a compassionate, nonjudgmental human being is learning to walk a lifetime in your shoes without discomfort. Every smile contains beauty. There is love in everyone's heart. There is wisdom in every intellect. Every person possesses a soul, life, and worth, as well as the capacity to recognize each of these qualities in others, including oneself.

2. Be kind to yourself as you would like others to be kind to you. Accept yourself! It's your insecurity that is ugly, not you. Be yourself in the most beautiful way you know how—exactly as you are. The standard you set for others is how you treat yourself. If you don't love who you are, nobody else will. And even if not everyone will like you when you are completely at ease in your skin, you won't give a damn about it.

3. Be less concerned with how people perceive you. Avoid losing yourself in the quest for social acceptance. Be aware that while most people are ignorant that you are significantly more than what they see, you will always seem to be a little less than certain people would like you to be. You are sufficient in your current form. To everyone else, you have nothing to prove. Consider who you are to yourself, more than who you are to others.

Recognize your value. We frequently accept the love we believe we deserve. Being second in someone's life makes no sense if you are capable of being first in someone else's.

Intimate connections shouldn't be hurried. Love is not about having sex, going on expensive dates, or being extravagant. Being with someone who can truly make you happy is what it's all about. You only need someone you can trust who makes it clear that you're the only one; you don't need a perfect person. Don't settle if you haven't found genuine love yet. Even if it's not the person you had initially hoped for, there is someone out there who will love you without conditions.

Don't hold on to those who aren't there. No matter how much you want them to, some people aren't meant to be in your life. And the only people truly deserving of your love are those who stick by you during the tough times and laugh with you once those tough times are over. Maybe there isn't anyone else with a happy ending right now. You might be the only one picking up the pieces and beginning anew, releasing yourself to move on to something better in the future. Maybe the solution is as simple as letting go.

Give others and yourself forgiveness. One of the many things that can be taken from you is your freedom to decide what you will believe in, as well as who and what you will love in the future. Other things that can be taken from you include your assets, your youth, your health, your speech, and your rights. Your fear and resentment stop when life begins. You shouldn't start hating everyone or live every day in continuous fear of getting harmed again just because someone hurt you yesterday. The love of your life is being created when you forgive both yourself and others and put an end to your inner incarceration.

Pay attention to the good. Keep your hope alive despite the hardship. Don't let the negative affect you. Avoid letting bitterness rob you of your sweetness. Take satisfaction in the fact that, despite the opinions of others, you still believe the world to be a wonderful place. Change your thoughts, and reality will change with them. Do you have thoughts about a world-class university degree? Have you considered the world of good that ATAFOM University International is offering? It is worth noting that our emotions, dreams, and willpower are all products of the thoughts we have. Because of this, we must carefully sift through them and decide to reply only to those that will enable us to create the life we desire and to maintain the attitude we desire while doing so.

Recognize your potential and have faith in yourself. Your life's true goal should be to develop into the complete person you are capable of becoming. Have a mind that is detached from nothing and open to everything. Since every skill may be learned through experience, change is always possible. Never let your unfavourable beliefs get in the way of your personal development.

Work toward the goals you firmly believe in. A goal that is vital to you should never be postponed or abandoned. Not because you still have tomorrow to start over or give it another shot, but rather because tomorrow might not come at all. Choose wisely by pursuing your dreams. It's not always true that life is short. Today, follow your heart.

Continue to glance ahead while proceeding directly. Moving on denotes acceptance of the past and a decision to carry on with life in the present, not that you have forgotten what happened in the past. Moving on doesn't imply giving up; rather, it means choosing happiness over the hurt to give yourself another chance. You can only say, "I survived and I now know better for next time," despite all the difficulties you have encountered, the weights on your shoulders, and the suffering in your heart. Have you been searching for a university that will open the doors to a job that will mark your hall of success? ATAFOM University International would love to make your dream come true. A world-class degree, international networks and open doors into a career many seek but few attain. Who could give up an opportunity to sit with leaders and make earth-changing decisions for the future? ATAFOM University is here to give you a seat, once you step through our doors.

In conclusion, remember the ultimate goal which is that self-love is about living life to the fullest, believing in your own emotions, taking chances, losing and regaining happiness, valuing the memories, and learning from the past. You occasionally need to put an end to your concerns, questions, and doubts. Have trust that things will turn out, perhaps not exactly as you had hoped, but just as they are supposed to.
